Diamond Spectacles.

THESE SPECTACLES are manufactured from "MINUTE CRYSTAL PEBBLES" melted together, and are called Diamond on account of their hardness and brilliancy. It is well known that spectacles cut from Brazilian or Scotch pebbles are very injurious to the eye, because of their polarizing light. Having been tested with the polariscope, the diamond lenses have been found to admit fifteen per cent. less heated rays than any other pebble. They are ground with great scientific accuracy, are free from chromatic aberrations, and produce a brightness and distinctness of vision not before attained in spectacles.
Manufactured by the Spencer Optical Manufacturing Comp'y New York. For sale by responsible agents in every city in the Union. H. A. HEATH & Co., Jewelers and Opticians, are sole Agents for Newport, R. I., from whom they can only be obtained. No peddlers employed. Do not buy any unless you see the trade mark. sp

Newport Daily News.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1873.

Conquered Without Whipping.

[Mr. Robert Dale Owen, in a very interesting account of his "Experience of Community Life," in the September Atlantic, tells the following story:]

When I first took charge of the school, finding that the teachers occasionally employed corporal punishment, I strictly forbade it. After a time the master of the eldest boys' class said to me one day, "I find it impossible to control these unruly rascals. They know I am not allowed to flog them; and when I seek to enforce rules of order, they defy me."

I sought to show him how he might manage them without the rod, but he persisted: "If you'd try it yourself for a few days, Mr. Owen, you'd find out that I am right."

"Good," said I. "I'll take them in hand for a week or two."

They were a rough, boisterous, lawless set, bright enough, quick of observation; capable of learning when they applied themselves, but accustomed to a free swing and impatient of discipline to which they had never been subjected. I said to them, at the start, "Boys, I want you to learn; you will be very sorry when you come to be men if you don't. But you can't learn anything worth knowing, without rules to go by. I must have you orderly and obedient. I won't require from you anything unreasonable, and I don't intend to be severe with you. But whatever I tell you has to be done, shall be done, sooner or later." Here I observed on one or two bold faces a smile that looked like incredulity; but all I added was, "You'll save time if you do it at once."

My lessons, often oral, interested them and things went on quietly for a few days. I knew the crisis would come. It did, in this wise. It was May, the thermometer ranging toward ninety, and I resolved to take the class to bathe in the Wabash, much to their delight. I told them, in advance, that by the doctor's advice they were to remain in the water fifteen minutes only, that was the rule. When I called, "Time up," they all came out, somewhat reluctantly however, except one tall fellow, named Ben, a good swimmer, who detained us ten minutes more, notwithstanding my orders several times repeated, to come on shore.

I said nothing about it till we got back to the school room; then I asked the class, "Do you remember my saying to you that whatever I told you to do had to be done sooner or later?" They looked at Ben, and said, "Yes." "Then I want one of you to tell me: if I take you to bathe again, you shall stay in fifteen minutes only. How do you think I had best manage that?" They looked at Ben again, and seemed puzzled, never, very surely, having been asked such a question before. "Has no one any plan?" I said.

At length a youngster suggested, "I guess you'd best thrash him, Mr. Owen."

"I don't wish to do that," I replied, "I think it does boys harm. Besides I never was whipped myself. I never whipped anybody, and I know it must be a very unpleasant thing to do. Can't some of you think of a better plan?"

One of the class suggested, "There's a closet in the garret, with a stout bolt to it. You might shut him up there till we get back."

"That is better than flogging, but is the closet dark?"

"It's dark as hell."

"You mustn't talk so, my child. You can't tell whether there is such a place as hell at all. You mean that the closet is quite dark, don't you?"

"Yes."

"Then you ought to say so. But I think Ben would not like to be shut up in the dark for nearly an hour."

"No; but then we don't like to be kept from bathing just for him."

Then one little fellow, with some hesitation, put in his word: "Please, Mr. Owen, wouldn't it do to leave him in the playground?"

"If I could be sure that he would stay there, but he might get out and go bathing and remain in half an hour perhaps."

At this point, Ben, no longer able to restrain himself, he had been getting more and more restless, turning first to one speaker, then to another, as we coolly discussed his case, burst forth: "Mr. Owen, if you'll leave me in the playground when they go to bathe next time, I'll never stir from it. I won't. You'll see I won't."

"Well, Ben," said I, "I've never known you to tell a falsehood, and I'll take your word for it this time. But remember! If you lie to me once, I shan't ever be able to trust you again.

We couldn't believe known liars if we were to try."

So the next time we went bathing I left Ben in the playground. When we returned he met me with eager face at the gate: "I've never left even for a minute; ask them if I have," pointing to some boys at play.

"Your word is enough. I believe you."

Thereafter Ben came out of the water promptly as soon as time was called; and whenever any of his comrades lingered, he was the first to chide them for disobeying orders.

A Young Man who would go in a Balloon.

The following article was republished in Brother Jonathan, November 19, 1842, having first appeared in an English paper. It was given under the head of "Balloonatic Extraordinary," and will prove of interest at the present time. "A daring feat was lately accomplished by a citizen of [illegible]. Mr. John Wise, the American aeronaut, had announced his intention of making his [illegible] ninth balloon ascension, and was ready on the day and hour promised. His balloon was inflated, his ballast, grappling-irons, &c., duly stowed, and he was about to step into the basket.

At that moment Mr. John McClellan, a young gentleman of the town, inquired of Mr. Wise whether it would not be possible for two persons to ascend with the power then in the balloon. On receiving a negative reply, Mr. McClellan seemed much disappointed, said he was determined to have a ride, and inquired the price, at which Mr. Wise who did not appear to consider the inquirer to be in earnest, "I will give you fifty dollars!" "Agreed, fork over." The joke was 'carried on,' and the cash of it was soon transferred to the pocket of the aeronaut and his substitute was snugly seated in the car, vociferating his dare to 'cut loose!'"

Mr. Wise thought that matters had now gone far enough, and requested his customer to get out, as the time had arrived at which he had promised to be off. But he refused to do so, and insisted that he had regularly hired and paid for a passage in this boat, and go he would. Mr. Wise then let the balloon up a short distance by a rope, thinking, probably, that as there was considerable wind, and the air-horse consequently turbulent, that his substitute would have his courage cooled and give in. But this was no go and thinking that he had as good a start as ever and was off! After he found that it was the determination of Mr. McClellan to go, Mr. Wise had but time to give him a few hasty and imperfect instructions in regard to the management of the balloon and in a few minutes the daring amateur aeronaut had ascended to a height of about two miles.

Here he struck a current of air which bore him directly towards York. He said that the earth receded from him very rapidly; that he threw out a bag or two of sand [illegible] that Gettysburg passed off towards Harrisburg, and that he saw Carlisle, Hanover, Abbottstown, Oxford, and Berlin, strolling about and that soon after, just ahead of him he saw old York coming full tilt up the turnpike toward him, apparently taking an afternoon's walk to Gettysburg. Having determined to stop at York and seeing from the remarkable speed at which that staid and sober town was travelling, that she would soon pass under his balloon, and give him the slip, he pulled the trip attached to the safety valve, in order to let off a portion of his gas.

The valve is so constructed that when the rope attached to it is pulled, the valve opens to the interior and again closes by force of the gas when the rope is let go. Unfortunately, however, the inexperienced aeronaut pulled too violently at the valve rope, tore the valve door completely off its hinges, and brought it down into the car! When this occurred he was more than a mile high, and he immediately descended with fearful rapidity, it receded, or rather fell, to the earth! When the valve door came off, the gas, of course, escaped rapidly, but the balloon [illegible] to form a parachute by which the fall was moderated, and we are happy to say that the voyager reached the earth about three miles from York, entirely uninjured. He says that as soon as the valve door came down upon him he knew that something had 'broke loose,' and just then remembered [illegible] that Mr. Wise had told him to be sure when he descended to throw out his grappling iron. He was preparing to get at it among the various things in the basket, when the earth bounced up against the bottom of the car. The escape of the gas was distinctly seen from York, and as the balloon neared the earth it lost its rotundity and appeared to the gazers to come down [illegible] like a wet sheet."

Newport Daily News.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1873.

Our friends will confer a favor, by sending us facts of any matter of local interest which may come to their knowledge.

Correspondence concerning matters of public interest will be inserted, but we do not hold ourselves responsible for opinions expressed in such communications. All manuscript must be accompanied by the name and address of the writer.

We have received a communication from a man who understands that in Newport there are brutal husbands who beat their wives. Farthermore it appears from his expressions that he knows whom he means, and could, if he wished, give the names of the "treacherous cowards" who "expect to pass as respectable citizens," but yet "who are wearing out the lives of their defenceless wives by their brutality."

We hope this is all a mistake. We cannot believe that wife-beating exists here, except, perhaps, among the most ignorant and dissipated. Still, we are open to conviction, and if such low blackguards as wife-beaters exist in Newport we should be happy to do anything we can to open them to conviction, in the courts.

But our correspondent is dreadfully in earnest. He not only knows there are wife-beaters here, and who they are, but he knows his remedy. It is a vigilance committee. In the south and extreme west this remedy for social evil has worked under the directions of Judge Lynch with very flattering success, but we fear, or hope, that it would not flourish on New England soil. Nevertheless our correspondent coolly calls for a vigilance committee, and what is more to the point he is anxious to be on that committee. He's a regular Ku Klux, this man is, and yearns to apply the raw hide or the cat-o'-nine-tails to the bleeding back of some of their brutal husbands.

He is not at all afraid. He gives us full authority to give his name to any of the wife beaters whose desire for revenge is awakened by his manly worth, and who apply to us for our correspondent's name. Hereafter when any man asks us who wrote that letter we should make up our minds at once that he is one of the candidates for treatment by a vigilance committee, and is spoiling for a fight with that man who wants to be on the committee.

The Liberal Republicans, under the leadership of Gen. John Cochrane, have recently had a meeting in New York to discuss plans and prospects. They have no plans and are about equally devoid of prospects. The Republicans feel too strong to care for alliance. The Democrats, disgusted at their corrupt and unsuccessful partnership last year, now spurn them with contumely and reproach. The meeting arrived at no conclusions and adjourned without agreeing on a programme. It was proposed to issue an appeal to all opponents of the present administration, but the gentlemen present hardly knew what to do about it.

Unless these gentlemen have something better to suggest than such an appeal they had better adjourn sine die. "Anything to beat Grant" was tried last year as a rallying cry, and it was an eminent failure. American voters are not such consummate fools as to jump deliberately and with their eyes wide open from the frying pan into the fire. They will not entrust the welfare of the country to men whose only platform is, "Anything to beat Grant." A party whose members are bound together only by a common opposition to the present administration is no party at all. The moment such a rabble should succeed in their aims and get possession of the government that moment it would fall apart into a score of pieces by the most natural processes. The administration they opposed having passed away, there would be nothing, not even the wild and uncertain spirit of opposition, to hold together the discordant elements. The Liberals had better save themselves the trouble of asking the nation to vote for anything to beat Grant.

Grant may be bad enough and probably is not absolute perfection, but the people will elect him a third and a fourth and a fifth time rather than to put the government into the hands of men who have no higher object than to defeat the present administration. There is one thing that is worse than Caesarism, and that is anarchy.

THE ALARM TELEGRAPH.

For some little time we have been undisturbed by false alarms of fire. But now the dull season is approaching, and the boys may be confidently relied on to provide some amusement for the long evenings. On Friday and Saturday nights the old sport of calling out the fire department for nothing, was resumed. When the firemen hear these street cries they hardly know whether to turn out or not. The chances are fifty to one that there is no fire. If under these circumstances any of the companies are tardy about getting onto the ground they can hardly be blamed. The firemen are getting so used to the false cries of "Wolf! Wolf!" that they can not be expected to believe them, or to respond very promptly to them. By and by, the real wolf will come, and some of these public spirited and farseeing gentlemen who think an alarm telegraph is a needless expense, will see their buildings destroyed because the engines did not get there in time.

If the cost of insuring buildings in this city is reduced one one hundredth of one per cent. on their value, the reduction will pay more than eleven per cent. on the cost of erecting the telegraph. That is, it will pay seven per cent. interest on the telegraph bonds, supposing bonds are issued, and more than four per cent. cash put annually into a sinking fund. Or if the whole expense is taken at once out of the city treasury it will amount to only one thirty fourth of one per cent. of the total valuation of the city. With a telegraph, alarms can be given that the department can rely on almost invariably. The location of the fire can be at once known and time saved in getting engines there. Only the nearest engine need be sent at first and then others, if the extent of the fire demands it. Compared with the wealth of the city the expense of the telegraph is very small, and the advantages to be derived from it are of great importance. The people of Newport will vote on this question one week from next Wednesday.

Why people go into the country is explained in the Brooklyn Eagle:—"The fact is, pleasure seeking in the summer is becoming monotonously stupid. Nobody, now-a-days, seems to go to the country for the sake of its health-producing breezes, but rather we all seem to go because others have gone and we are going."

A Stage Driver.

Margery Deane writes from the mountains:

The drivers in this region are characters. You should have seen the good, honest soul who took us from the base of the mountain to the Fabyan House. He had already given me a helping hand over a running brook the day before, and claimed acquaintance when I asked the privilege of sitting beside him on the top of the stage. "I like you marm, because I think you'll talk!" he said, and we did talk; and I learned more from him in that drive than from all the guide books I'd purchased on the journey. He told me of black "bars", which had crossed his path not long before; of life in the woods in winter, when the stage horses draw lumber, and he enlarged on the queer ways of city folk.

At our enthusiasm over beautiful views, he smiled quietly, and at our rapture when we reached the singing falls of the Ammonoosuc, he put on an expression such as we would use at seeing a child's delight in looking at the moon.

But it was in returning, that our good man made his happiest hit. After half convulsing us with laughter, by his one ejaculation "gosh!" uttered after a prolonged stare when we told him we lived on an island without a hill in sight, Kate, to give vent to her overflowing spirits, uttered a succession of trills and runs, which would have made happy the heart of her music teacher. The driver turned toward her with blended admiration and wonder in his honest face. "Gorry!" he exclaimed "she hollers just like a loon!" This was too much, and we shouted with laughter in spite of every effort to keep straight our faces. John was a bit disconcerted, but rallied instantly and with the most earnest look in his round eyes said, "I tell you what, Marm, a coon sings neat now, a loon calls out what I call hansome!" We assured him we believed it, and appreciated the compliment, and in spite of his entreaties and promises to protect us if we'd only stay outside, we clambered down, as the rain began to fall heavily. But the drivers have had their day. No more exhilarating stage rides! Next year we will go from New York to the base of the mountains in a Pullman car. All through New Hampshire, railroads are creeping from point to point. We are a people to be pitied. No time even to enjoy nature and even in the Notch, we must see the most famous spots, the most curious formation of rocks cut away and make room for steam cars. All the old primitiveness, the rustic simplicity of the former mountain travel is gone. The new Fabyan House would not be out of place on Fifth Avenue. But there must always remain that "hail fellow well met!" feeling, that cordial greeting of strangers who meet on these rugged hills, introduced only by nature.

The Detroit Post says that, the other day, "An excellent little boy named Gillis, while on the way to a neighbor's to borrow a drawing of tea for his kind mother, stooped down to adjust his shoe string, when a venerable and vicious goat drew a sight on him and made a rush. Of course the little boy had no well defined idea what the matter was until about ten minutes later, when a lady fished him out of a rosebush in her front yard in an insensible condition, and carried him into the house and revived him. Boneset tea, hot mustard plasters, ice water, gingerbread, sassafras, and other antidotes were administered, and it is thought he will be recovered by the time Barnum comes."

The Richmond Enquirer points out as one of the necessities of a successful campaign such a distribution of speakers as will prevent the same ones speaking in districts where they have been heard before. It doesn't believe in political encores.

THE ACCIDENT TO YOUNG GOULD.—We take the following particulars of the melancholy accident whereby young Gould lost his life, from the East Greenwich Pendulum:

James Ecroyd Gould, a young man twenty-five years of age, who resided with his mother at Moorestown, New Jersey, came to Rhode Island on a visit.

Arriving at Stonington, Thursday, on his way he took the fruit train, with passenger car attached, which passes through Greenwich without stopping, at about six o'clock in the morning, and wishing to stop here to see his uncle, George C. Kenyon, leaped from the train, which was slackened for that purpose. In some way he fell under the wheels of the rear car, which passed over his leg, mangling it in a shocking manner. The toes of his right foot were crushed, and he received a severe contusion in the back.

By the advice of his friends and Dr. Eldredge, who accompanied him, he was taken to Providence by the next train, and thence to the Rhode Island Hospital, when Drs. Caswell and Carr were summoned. His left leg was amputated just below the knee; his other injuries were dressed, and he was made as comfortable as his condition permitted. Although youth and strength enabled him to bear the shock with wonderful fortitude for a while, he sank rapidly and expired at a quarter before four, six hours after the operation.

CONCERNING THE CITY COUNCIL.—"Listener," who a few days since made some severe reflections in our columns on the conduct of certain members of the Common Council now comes forward in their defence against the comments of the Star reporter published on Friday. As he is very severe on the reporter and goes so far as to impugn his motives, he will have to excuse us for not publishing the letter, but we will give the substance of his remarks.

The Council, he says, only exercises a proper supervision over its deputies in requiring to be consulted by them on all matters of expense. The Council, he goes on to say, does not vote away hundreds of dollars this way and that for doubtful purposes as the remarks in the Star would indicate. All committees and boards acting under the City Council's orders, are required before they have exhausted their appropriations to report their financial condition to the Council and if they wish more money they are to state what it is for. They are not to spend all their money and then come to the Council for an additional appropriation to enable them to do work that they ought to have done in the outset with the first appropriation.

PRISON REFORM.—Last evening the Rev. Dr. Cleghorn, agent of the National Prison Association, delivered a lecture on prison reform, at the Academy of Music. The hall was completely filled and many were obliged to go away for want of seats, while some more enthusiastic remained and stood the whole evening. The speaker succeeded in the very difficult task of holding the attention of a large audience for one hour and three quarters.

The main points of this lecture were given in our editorial columns on Wednesday last. To repeat in a few words, it is the aim of the Prison Association to have all prisons removed from political influence by intrusting them to a commission of proper persons appointed or elected for life; to keep prisoners in confinement not for a fixed period, but until some signs of reformation become apparent, and to so treat the prisoner that he shall learn that it is better for him to obey society than to disobey it; in other words, to make virtue pay better than vice.

As a fruitful cause of crime Dr. Cleghorn spoke of the liquor traffic and gave some startling figures in connection with it. It appears that the whole country pays for the support of Christian ministers of all denominations six million dollars; for dogs, ten million dollars, and for all kinds of liquors fifteen hundred million dollars! About three-quarters of our whole national debt, annually. Three-fourths of all crime and four-fifths of all pauperism is caused by liquor.

To Lovers of Newport.

We have had the privilege of seeing the advance sheets of a book about this attractive city by Col. T. W. Higginson. The name of the author is sufficient to assure the public that the book will be of unusual interest, and the name of the publishing house, J. R. Osgood & Co., is a guarantee that the book will be gotten up in the finest style. But what we wish particularly to call attention to are the pictures. They are photographic prints executed according to the heliotype process, the exclusive right to use which in the United States has been purchased by J. R. Osgood & Co. These pictures combine the cheapness of wood cuts with the elegance of the best photographs. They reproduce the most characteristic and the most picturesque of the views for which Newport is celebrated. The frontispiece is, very appropriately, the Old Stone Mill. It is the most perfect counterfeit of that lovely old ruin we ever saw. The book will be issued next week, and every lover of Newport should get two copies, one for himself and one for his best friend.

Special Notice.

☞Mr. A. J. Ward has a full stock of all the books used in the Public Schools.

STATE MISCELLANY.

The dedication of the new Byfield school-house, a noble structure, in which the youth of Bristol are in the future to be instructed, which caused the citizens a hard struggle in town meetings and the State Legislature, and the building of which, perhaps, cost the dis that determined certain property holders in the north part of the town to sever their connections with it, occurred with imposing ceremonies on Saturday. Lieutenant Governor Van Zandt made some very humorous introductory remarks, and was the cause of much merriment. He expressed himself entirely satisfied with the building, and highly pleased with the exercises. He also spoke very highly of the character of Judge Byfield.

Hon. Mr. Brinley arose and read an epitaph which was taken from the tomb of Mr. Byfield, and suggested that it would be a good plan for the people to erect some memorial tablet or monument to his memory and have it placed thereon.

The great strength of the boiler building shows the wisdom of Mr. Harris in its construction. Had it not been for this, the destruction of life and injury to buildings might have been much greater.

The two persons already named as killed are the only ones killed by the explosion, and all those who were wounded are either so as to be about, or will be so very soon. A large force of men and teams from the farm and mill are at work removing the rubbish. But one of the five boilers burst, and this one is torn into many fragments, as one would tear pasteboard scattered in many directions, and not a weak place has as yet been discovered, all the parts showing evidence of soundness and strength.

Arrangements are already in progress for the restoration of the building and boilers, and all possible efforts will be made to repair the damage as speedily as can be. Meantime a portable engine, with boiler, has been secured, and will be put in place to furnish steam for the various processes in the manufacture of woolens—the immense water wheel furnishing the power—so that Messrs. Taft, Weeden & Co., can run out their stock without much delay, they hoping to be able to start up early next week.

The Harris Woolen Company have desired an inquest, and Coroner N. T. Verry has summoned a jury.

SEASONINGS.

The smaller hotels at Cape May are closed and the large houses are preparing to follow suit.

The Wave, at Cape May, has become weekly. It says in the last issue:—"With a late beginning Cape May has made more money than any other watering place."

They have a Lord Mayor of London at Saratoga: no less a personage than Sir Thomas Dakin. He is staying at Congress Hall with his two daughters, and opened the ball there last Friday night.

There are now over three hundred guests divided between the Water Gap House and the Kittatinny House, Delaware Water Gap. The latter hotel will remain open until November first.

Bernstein's popular band has been engaged for the season of 1874 at the new United States Hotel, Saratoga.

Thermometer marked forty degrees one morning last week at Woodford, Vt. Cool enough for furs and overcoats.

Thomas Lipsey, who died at Cold Springs, N. Y., last week, will be remembered by many visitors up the Hudson as the old boatman who ploughed the waters of the river with his oars, for many years, between West Point and the opposite shore. Tom was a character in his way, and was in the habit of amusing his patrons with yarns of his experience. He was fond of boasting of the number of distinguished people—presidents, poets, and others—he had rowed across the Hudson.

A Niagara correspondent writes that "there is much lamentation and gnashing of teeth by the landlords, storekeepers, showmen, hackmen, and other 'blood-suckers' of this place over the season now fast drawing to a close. It has been a failure of the worst sort. In such immense caravansaries as the International and Cataract there has never been more than a handful of guests, and even those have been of the most transient character. The streets have been almost deserted, the curiosity shops, with their gaudy and useless stock, frequented by few but their disgusted proprietors, and even the hackmen, for want of folks to practice upon, have lost something of their usual swagger and impudence."

The season at the Equinox House, Manchester, has passed very pleasantly with hops, excursions and other entertainments, at the Music Hall, consisting of music by Professor Farber's band, tableaux, and Mrs. Jarley's wax figures. Mrs. Charles Lord, of New York, took the part of Mrs. Jarley.

The Grand Jury of the Criminal Court, Chicago, have found bills of indictment for manslaughter against Puffenburger and Bean, the engineer and conductor respectively of the freight train which caused the collision at Lemont, on the Chicago and Alton Railroad. Both are out on bail.

It is reported that W. G. Clarke, who was appointed postmaster at Cowlis Station, Macon county, Georgia, has been killed by the Ku-Klux. He was shot in the back with buckshot, and subsequently had a bullet fired through his brain. The assailant has been tried and acquitted.

The cholera epidemic in Millersburg, Ky., is abating. There were only two deaths Friday. Provisions having given out the citizens of Paris are sending them cooked food, and the city council has made an appropriation for their benefit.

Three deaths by cholera occurred in Wheeling yesterday and last night. Two new cases were reported this morning.

Seventy-six cars, containing thirty-eight thousand baskets of peaches, arrived in Jersey City yesterday.

A lady was stopping recently at a Chicago hotel with her little son. The boy was not perfectly satisfied with matters and things at the dinner-table, and expressed himself frequently to that effect. The mother finally rose and remarked in an undertone to the youthful offender, "Come with me up-stairs, and I will attend to your case." The lad understood at once what "attending to his case" meant, but there was an important matter of detail which he was painfully anxious to have more fully explained; so pulling backward on the hand of his mother, he blubbered out in a voice loud enough to be heard over most of the well-filled dining-room, "Say, mother, are you going to take your hand or your slipper?" The enthusiasm with which this brief address was received was unbounded.

The Lafayette (Ind.) Journal reports that a citizen of that place, passing over a bridge in that vicinity the other day, observed an individual busily engaged driving large spikes into the timbers on the south side of it, at very short intervals. He wondered at the time what object the man could have in view, but upon going over the bridge again, a few days later, saw the same man carefully gathering up the wisps of hay which had accumulated on the spikes from the numerous hay wagons which daily pass through that side of the bridge.

Nature's Appeals for Help.

Every indication of debility and exhaustion is a mute appeal of Nature for medicinal aid to arrest the progress of decay. How are these silent appeals of physical weakness to be responded to? Too often, unfortunately, the drugs prescribed aggravate the symptoms. Whoever recommends drastic purgatives, or mineral salivants, or poisonous alkaloids, under such circumstances, is an ally of the ailment and an enemy of the patient. Whoever, on the contrary, advises the broken down and desponding sufferer to resort to that peerless vegetable invigorant, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, for aid and comfort, is a true philanthropist. It is safe to say that there never was an instance in which such advice was given and accepted without the happiest results. From the very depths of weakness and despondency thousands have been restored to vigor, health and cheerfulness by the renovating operation of this wholesome stimulant and alterative. All its medicinal ingredients are remarkable for their sanative properties, and in combination form an absolute specific for indigestion, liver complaint, nervous affections, rheumatism, intermittent and remittent fevers, general and local weakness, and every species of disorder incident to change of season or climate. The stimulative element of this invaluable protective and restorative is not an impure excitant, but the thoroughly rectified essence of sound rye, admitted by all great chemists to be the most healthful of exhilarants.

LABOR-SAVING MACHINES.—Of the many household labor-saving machines offered from time to time, none are more deserving of public attention and earnest consideration, or that promises such sure and lasting relief to the hard worked washer woman, than the "Ferguson Washer." Simple in construction, easy of management, devoid of machinery, it will not injure a single thread of any fabric, and can be worked by any child twelve years old; will do in a thorough manner, any ordinary family washing in two hours. Possessing these undisputed qualities, the Company in order to prove their integrity in the matter, guarantee entire satisfaction or a return of the purchase money to the buyer.

The Category of Luxuries is large, but among the number there is none at once so harmless, inexpensive and gratifying to the senses as a perfectly prepared perfume, and in this Messrs. Colgate & Co.'s new perfume, "Cashmere Bouquet," fully reaches the requirements of all.

Another attractive feature of the most attractive part of Brooklyn, is, the establishment of a Young Ladies' Seminary, of a high order in the immediate vicinity of Prospect Park. GENERAL NEWS.

MISCELLANEOUS.

WORCESTER, Sept. 6.—A tornado passed over portions of Rutland and Oakham for a distance of about four miles, Thursday afternoon, destroying the barn of Mr. Wm. Anderson in Oakham, and injuring the house and trees and fences of Otis Chickering in Rutland, and wrecking the school house in New Boston village in the latter town. Several persons had narrow escapes, but none were much injured.

BOSTON, Sep. 6.—The New England Agricultural Fair closes today, with a large attendance and delightful weather. Rev. W. H. H. Murray delivered the annual address this forenoon. The fair has been a success in the value and comprehensiveness of its exhibition; also, it is believed, financially.

HAVANA, Sept. 7. Last night, the square of buildings known as Plaza Vapor was reduced to ashes. The fire broke out simultaneously in the four corners of the square, and is supposed to have been the work of incendiaries. The loss is estimated at over $8,000,000. It is reported that over twenty lives were lost. The scenes around the burning square were exciting and terrible, parents threw their children from the balconies to save them from the flames.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6. Fraud is apprehended in making the final count of the election votes in several wards of the city, for the purpose of giving the legislative ticket a democratic majority. Large rewards are offered for the detection of any attempt at fraud. The count is believed to be unnecessarily slow. In some wards a vigilant watch is kept. Reports from the interior confirm a complete victory of the antimonopoly party. Tables of majorities in all counties have not been received.

CHICAGO, 7.—About 3 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the Fulton elevator, corner of Canal and Kenzie streets, and destroyed the entire building. The elevator was one of the oldest in the city owned by Jesse Hoyt & Co., of New York, who bought it a few days ago at a public sale on foreclosure of mortgage held by them on it and other elevators of Munn & Scott. The price paid was $75,000, which was regarded as more than its value. It contained 120,900 bushels corn, 5,000 bushels oats, valued at $50,000. The grain was all insured. The building was insured for $20,000, about half its value.

New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The official report of Gen. Custar of the Tongue river and Big Horn fights is published in a paper of this city this morning. The Indians outnumbered the troops five to two. Every available officer and man was in the skirmish line, which was, in reality, our battle line. The Indians displayed unusual boldness, frequently charging up to the line and firing with great deliberation and accuracy. The fight began at 11:30 a. m., and was waged without cessation until 3 o'clock.

On the 10th we found the Indians had taken to the river and crossed. In following the trail to this point, it was evident that the movement of the Indians was one of precipitate flight. As a result of the engagement on the 7th, all along the trail and in the camping places were to be found large quantities of what constitutes an Indian's equipment, such as lodge poles, robes, equipments, arms, &c.

After several unsuccessful attempts to cross the river, the undertaking was abandoned, the Indians discovered our pursuit, and again fleeing. The Indians finally returned, and attacked us in three different squads.

When our troops assumed the offensive a charge was made. The The Indians turned their ponies' heads and began a disorderly retreat. The cavalry put spurs to their horses, and dashed forward in pursuit. The main command then came in sight, and we were enabled to send another force to join the pursuit. The Indians were prevented from re-crossing the river, and were completely dispersed and driven nine miles. The number of Indians is estimated at from 800 to 1,000. The troops numbered 150, officers and men.

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

The Republican Central Committee met last night. A resolution was adopted that no man be admitted as a member of any of the various district organizations who had not, at the election preceding his application for membership voted for those candidates who were nominated by the regular republican organizations.

CATHOLIC SCHOOLS.

At the dedication of a new Roman Catholic parochial school, in St Peter's parish, today, by Vicar General Guin, Rev. Father Reilly made an address saying that the public schools are good enough in their way, but the Catholics were resolved to have Catholic schools, and this was only the beginning of the movement. Other clergymen made remarks of a similar tendency.

HOW SHALL WE

HEAT OUR HOUSES?

GOLD'S

SANITARY HEATER.

(Patented Aug. 1, 1871.)

(EQUAL IN ALL RESPECTS TO ANY STEAM HEAT.)

For Warming Dwellings, Churches, Schools, etc.

The Best Heater in the World,

FOR THE FOLLOWING REASONS:

It has the largest amount of heating surface. It is entirely free from dust and gases. No overheated surfaces. The heat is equal in all respects to Steam Heat. It has an Automatic Regulator, controlling the draft, regulating the fire at all times, and keeping the heat at a uniform temperature. No danger from overheated pipes. The heating surface is of heavy Wrought Iron, and costs only about one-third more than a Hot Air Furnace.

WHY IT IS THE BEST!

It is fully one-third cheaper than steam or hot water.

There can be no bursting or freezing of pipes.

There is no danger of explosions.

It is easily attended to.

It is readily adapted to Private Dwellings, Schools, Churches, Hospitals, and all other buildings where pure fresh air is required.

No burnt air, nor gas, nor smoke.

The air does not come in contact with overheated iron.

It removes no moisture from the atmosphere, and needs none added.

It is self-regulating at all times.

The air to be warmed comes directly from outside of the building.

These Heaters will be set by competent workmen, and under the superintendency of the patentee, if desired.

Parties about to build, or who intend making a change in their heating arrangements, will be furnished with an estimate of the cost of this improved method of heating on application at our office.

Newport Daily News.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1873.

An extraordinary will case is now attracting attention in Michigan. For twenty-five or thirty years everybody about Troy, N. Y., had supposed Abraham Schryver dead. When his wife's father died he settled up the estate and decamped with the proceeds, amounting to nearly a million dollars, leaving his wife to provide as best she could for four children and a young babe. For months she suffered agonies of suspense and grief on account of the mysterious disappearance. Then came the news that he was in Canada, and later still the deserted wife received a newspaper from Canada containing an obituary of "the late Abraham Schryver," and thenceforward she and her children gave him up as dead. She struggled on and brought them up well, and now when she is old and her middle aged children are married and settled about her, the story of his wanderings is revealed to them in a most startling and dramatic manner.

All the paper for the money issued by the government is manufactured on a sixty-two-inch Fourdrinier machine, at the Glen Mills, near Westchester, Pa. Short pieces of red silk are mixed with the pulp in the engine, and the finished stuff is conducted to the wire without passing through any screens, which might retain the silk threads. By an arrangement above the wire cloth, a shower of short pieces of fine blue silk thread is dropped in streaks upon the paper while it is being formed. The upper side, on which the blue silk is dropped, is the one used for the face of the notes, and, from the manner in which the threads are applied, must show them more distinctly than the reverse side, although they are imbedded deeply enough to remain fixed. The mill is guarded by officials night and day to prevent the abstraction of any paper.

Schryver appears to have settled in Port Huron, Mich. He was recently on his death-bed, and his housekeeper allowed no one to watch over him in his dying moments but herself. He died, and his will, made at midnight and witnessed by hotel servants, left the bulk of his large property to his supposed wife. Only $500 was bequeathed to a daughter whom he had adopted, and dissatisfied with this will, and knowing that the testator had not been exactly in his right mind, she wrote to Troy for some information about Abraham Schryver and his relations. The Schryver children investigated the affair, and will contest the will on the ground that the father was not in his right mind, and that the instrument is a forgery, as shown by mistakes he could not have fallen into concerning his own family.

THE MIDLAND RAILWAY is an enterprise of National importance, and the Stock and Bonds soon to be placed upon the principal Stock Exchanges, will be as freely dealt in as are those of the New York Central, Erie, and Pennsylvania Central Railroads of to-day. Two hundred and eighty-eight miles of its railroad are now completed and in operation. Continuous trains are running from New York to Oswego, and on the Western Extension, towards Buffalo, the Company is running trains 85 miles; the remainder of the distance, 120 miles, to Buffalo, is in course of rapid construction, and it will be completed within the year. The New York and Oswego Midland Railway will be one of the most profitable Trunk Lines running out of New York.

We confidently believe that Fifty Millions of Dollars will be made by the Stock and Bond holders in this road within a few years by the rise in the value of the property. The selling value of the Stock and Bonds of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad is over	$150,000,000

The selling value of the Stock and Bonds of the Midland Railway Companies, including sufficient to complete single track to Buffalo, and double track East of Middletown, is	$32,000,000
Saving over the Erie route	35 miles.

This difference of distance in favor of the Midland Line must always enable it to compete with the other lines advantageously, to freight, and ought to give it a larger share of the business than any other line. The early completion of the Western Extension, from Sidney Centre to Buffalo, is secured by the subscription of capitalists to a syndicate formed to purchase $5,000,000 of Bonds from the Company. The syndicate has guaranteed to advance further means, if wanted, to complete the Road. We offer for a short time, New York and Oswego Midland Railway Co.'s First Mortgage seven per cent. Gold Bonds, Western Extension, at 87 1-2 and accrued interest in currency.

We are sole agents for selling Jersey City & Albany Railroad Company's 7 per cent. Gold Bonds at 90 and interest in currency. The road is now in operation from Jersey City to Tappantown, a distance of twenty four miles. Nine miles further are graded, on which iron is being laid. The road will be completed to Haverstraw within a year. These Bonds are only issued on completed road.

A speciality will be made of the Stock and Bonds of the following Companies: New York & Oswego Midland Railway Company, New Jersey Midland Railway Company, Montclair Railway Company, and Jersey City & Albany Railroad Company. We have now on hand a limited supply of these Bonds.

All Bonds and Stocks known in the market will be bought and sold, for cash, on orders for Investors or dealers. We Solicit Permanent Correspondents and Agents for the sale of these Bonds.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN
JURUBEBA
BLOOD PURIFIER

Is the most powerful cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and so situated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c., &c.

When weary and languid from overwork, and dullness, drowsiness and inertia take the place of energy and vigor, the system needs a Tonic to build it up and help the Vital Forces to regain their recuperative power.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

DR. WELLS'
EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

Is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE-GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

Medical.

NOTICE.

A prominent New York physician lately complained to DUNDAS DICK, about his Sandalwood Oil Capsules, stating that sometimes they cured miraculously, but that a patient of his had taken them without effect. On being informed that several imitations were sold he inquired and found that his patient had not been taking DUNDAS DICK & CO'S.

What happened to this physician may have happened to others, and DUNDAS DICK & CO. take this method of protecting physicians, druggists and themselves, and preventing Oil of Sandalwood from coming into disrepute.

PHYSICIANS who once prescribe the Capsules will continue to do so, for they contain the pure Oil in the best and cheapest form.

DUNDAS DICK & CO. use more Oil of Sandalwood than all the Wholesale and Retail Druggists and Perfumers in the U. S. combined, and this is the sole reason why the pure Oil is sold cheaper in their Capsules than in any other form.

OIL OF SANDALWOOD is fast superseding every other remedy, sixty Capsules only being required to insure a safe and certain cure in six or eight days. From no other medicine can this result be had.

Dick's Soft Capsules solve the problem long considered by eminent physicians, of how to avoid the nausea and disgust experienced in swallowing, which are well known to detract from, if not destroy, the good effects of many valuable remedies.

Soft Capsules are put up in tin foil and neat boxes, thirty in each, and are the only Capsules prescribed by Physicians.

TASTELESS Medicines. Castor Oil and many other nauseous medicines can be taken easily and safely in DUNDAS DICK & CO'S SOFT CAPSULES. No Taste. No Smell.

These were the only Capsules admitted to the last Paris Exposition.

Iron in the Blood
PERUVIAN AN IRON TONIC SYRUP
MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

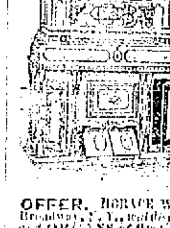

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.
